Grow with Google

Supporting military spouses

Explore tools and resources designed to help you prepare for and build a meaningful career

Visit grow.google/militaryspouses to learn more

Find a job you can take anywhere

You can now apply a 'work from home' location filter to job searches on Google to help you find remote work opportunities. To get started, search "work from home jobs" on Google to surface remote work job listings across industries.

Tips to help you succeed while working remotely

Through Grow with Google's Applied Digital Skills program and the free Primer app, you can take free lessons to find or transition to remote work, work with teammates online, and build your digital skills in tools for online collaboration.

Get Started:

Download the free Primer app on Android or iOS and search "milspouse" to get started with the "Working Remotely: Best Practices for Military Spouses" minicourse.

Visit g.co/applieddigitalskills/militaryspouses to get started with the Applied Digital Skills course on remote work, "Connect and Collaborate Anywhere with Digital Tools."

Build a business that works for you

On the free Primer app, you can take lessons to start and grow your own business through a minicourse designed for military spouses. Learn tips to create a business plan, plan a budget, build a successful website, and more.

Get Started: Primer

Download the free Primer app on Android or iOS and search "milspousebiz" to get started with the "Online Business Tips for Military Spouse Entrepreneurs" minicourse.

Launch a career in IT Support

Google's IT Support Professional Certificate can help you prepare for an entry-level job in IT support in about six months. No IT experience is necessary. After completion, you can opt in to share your information directly with top employers like Google and more than 30 others that are looking to hire entry-level IT Support Specialists.

You may be eligible for a scholarship to complete the IT Certificate through the United Service Organizations (USO) or the Institute for Veterans and Military Families (IVMF). You can also find information on scholarships through the SECO Scholarship Finder.

Visit grow.google/militaryspouses to learn more