Introduction

Military OneSource offers outreach services to support the military community when and where they need it most. Military OneSource state consultants and outreach assistants work with military leadership and military and community support services to meet the needs of the military population within the state or territory where they are located.

Who is eligible to receive outreach services?

Outreach services support service members, their families, survivors and military leaders from all branches and components, as well as military and civilian service providers working within the military population. Military OneSource state consultants and outreach assistants are available in every state and territory.

What is the role of a state consultant?

While the outreach activities of a Military OneSource state consultant vary by the location and needs of the community, their role is to:

- » Develop and execute a state support plan to ensure broad awareness of available resources necessary to meet identified needs. (Resources include, but are not limited to: financial, behavioral health, education, employment, health and wellness, and support for deployment and military life.)
- » Network with service providers to raise awareness of the military community and their needs.
- » Provide need-based information and referral services to improve the quality of life and readiness of service members, their families and survivors.
- » Support on-demand events with presentations and resource tables to educate on the services available through the Military OneSource call center and website. (An outreach assistant often fulfills this role at events.)
- » Educate service members, their families and survivors on Military OneSource resources and services through small group informational sessions, which can be held in collaboration with other service providers.
