OCTOBER IS
National Domestic Violence Awareness Month

Relationships should be safe.
ABUSE IS NEVER OK.

Individual and family stress can escalate conflict and sometimes leads to domestic abuse. Get help early to prevent a crisis.

Victim safety is essential. Information and support are available 24/7.

To learn about reporting options or reach a Family Advocacy victim advocate, contact your local Family Advocacy Program or Military OneSource, 800-342-9647.

If you or someone you know is being abused, call law enforcement immediately or your installation Family Advocacy Program.

For additional support, contact the National Domestic Violence Hotline at 800-799-7233.

The Family Advocacy Program helps individuals, couples and families develop healthy relationship skills and address common relationship and parenting challenges during every stage of life.
