A	Barracks that are privatized would be owned and operated by a private company to leverage private sector expertise and capital to bring them up to contemporary standards and maintain them properly over the long term. Room assignments and control of the barracks would be the responsibility of the private owner, but the chain of command would determine which individuals would be allowed to live in privatized barracks (others would live in traditional barracks owned and operated by the Service, or on board a ship). A housing allowance paid to the member would fund barracks privatization similar to family housing privatization where the rent equals the housing allowance. A member would not be allowed to receive this housing allowance and move off base. 150.
