Military OneSource Counseling Options

Military OneSource offers two types of short-term, non-medical counseling services to all active-duty, Reserve, and National Guard members and their families: in-person counseling and telephonic consultations.

You can access counseling services by contacting a Military OneSource consultant to determine which type would be best for you and your situation.

IN-PERSON COUNSELING

When there is a need, a Military OneSource consultant can provide a referral for in-person counseling for a service member or eligible family member to a licensed professional counselor in the local community.

TELEPHONIC CONSULTATIONS

When a service member or eligible family member needs counseling and is unable to attend in-person counseling sessions (due to their location or other circumstances), a Military OneSource consultant can provide a referral for a telephonic consultation.

AVAILABILITY

In-person counseling is available to those stationed or living in the continental U.S., Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico.

Telephonic consultations are available for those who are located outside of this area or are unable to attend in-person counseling.

LIMITATIONS

- Military OneSource counseling services are designed to provide service members and their family members help with short-term issues such as: adjustment to situational stressors, stress management, decision making, communication, grief, blended-family issues, and parenting-skills issues.
- Each eligible service member or family member may receive up to six sessions, per issue, per counselor at no cost. If you need counseling for a different issue, you must call Military OneSource and speak with a consultant to get another referral for a different counselor. You can only see a counselor for a maximum number of six sessions.
- Those requiring counseling for long-term medical issues will be referred to TRICARE or a military treatment facility.

PRIVACY

Counseling sessions are kept confidential, within certain guidelines. All counseling adheres to the same informed consent, Confidentiality/Privacy, and reportable-event protocols. A family member may seek counseling without the knowledge or consent of the service member. A Military OneSource consultant can explain the limits of confidentiality in more detail.
