

Protecting Your Privacy

We are committed to protecting your privacy. We will not use any protected health information without your explicit permission. Protecting health information, including any personally identifying information, is of vital importance to us. For our pregnancy and parenting e-mail service, we need your name, due date, and e-mail address to facilitate the delivery of the contracted pregnancy and parenting e-mail service.

This information will go into a secure database along with the data of other parents who are having their babies at Department of Defense clinics/hospitals subscribed to this service. Our business associate hosts and maintains the data base with your information with all the requirements and security measures required by the Department of Defense.

The e-mail newsletter services provided is designed to be tailored to your week of pregnancy or baby's age. Your weekly e-mail includes tips, advice, resources, and information on your baby's development. This service is offered to you weekly beginning in the seventh week of pregnancy, continuing through birth until your baby's first birthday. This is all free to you.

Your signature on this application means that you want your protected health information being used in order to enroll in the pregnancy and parenting e-mail service.

You may disenroll by notifying us via e-mail or in writing at any time.

Opting-in or opting-out of this service in no way affects your access, treatment or eligibility for any benefits.

Thank You.

Protecting Your Privacy

We are committed to protecting your privacy. We will not use any protected health information without your explicit permission. Protecting health information, including any personally identifying information, is of vital importance to us. For our pregnancy and parenting e-mail service, we need your name, due date, and e-mail address to facilitate the delivery of the contracted pregnancy and parenting e-mail service.

This information will go into a secure database along with the data of other parents who are having their babies at Department of Defense clinics/hospitals subscribed to this service. Our business associate hosts and maintains the data base with your information with all the requirements and security measures required by the Department of Defense.

The e-mail newsletter services provided is designed to be tailored to your week of pregnancy or baby's age. Your weekly e-mail includes tips, advice, resources, and information on your baby's development. This service is offered to you weekly beginning in the seventh week of pregnancy, continuing through birth until your baby's first birthday. This is all free to you.

Your signature on this application means that you want your protected health information being used in order to enroll in the pregnancy and parenting e-mail service.

You may disenroll by notifying us via e-mail or in writing at any time.

Opting-in or opting-out of this service in no way affects your access, treatment or eligibility for any benefits.

Thank You.