Introduction

Department of Defense Instruction 1342.12, "Provision of Early Intervention and Special Education Services to Eligible DoD Dependents," June 17, 2015, requires the Department of Defense to provide early intervention and special education services, including related services, to all eligible Department of Defense dependents at overseas locations. The instruction requires each military department, in consultation with the Department of Defense Dependents Schools, to establish centers within designated areas of geographical responsibility outside the United States to provide related services and early intervention services to support the needs of eligible beneficiaries. Department of Defense Instruction 1315.19, "Authorizing Special Needs Family Members Travel Overseas at Government Expense," Dec. 20, 2005, requires the director of the Department of Defense Education Activity to identify the locations of early intervention and special education in overseas military communities. The Directory of Special Services provides information about the level of special education services available in overseas military communities.

Exceptional Family Member Program:

The Exceptional Family Member Program is the mechanism established in all military services to screen and identify family members who have special medical and/or educational needs. Collectively, the OCONUS Directory, developed to identify the levels of support in overseas communities, refers to these programs as the Exceptional Family Member Program. The Exceptional Family Member Program identifies family members with special needs and assists the military personnel systems in making assignments to locations where Department of Defense Dependents Schools and the military medical departments have pre-established programs and staff.

The OCONUS Directory is intended to assist the medical and educational assignment coordinators to identify those military communities outside the continental United States with pre-established programs for children with special educational needs. The directory does not identify pre-established programs or services for special medical needs.

Special services for children with disabilities:

The Individuals with Disabilities Education Act mandates the following services for children with disabilities:

- Early intervention services for infants and toddlers (birth through 2 years of age, inclusive) who have a developmental delay or a disability
- Special education services for children from 3 through 21 years of age who have a disability
- Related services for children from 3 through 21 years of age who require the services to benefit from their special education program

Provision of services¹ in OCONUS locations:

- The military medical departments, through their Educational and Developmental Intervention Services, provide early intervention services and related services in OCONUS locations where the Department of Defense Dependents Schools is responsible for educational services. In those OCONUS locations that are part of the United States, such as Guam and Puerto Rico, related services are provided by the Department of Defense Domestic Dependent Elementary and Secondary Schools.
- The Department of Defense Education Activity, through its Department of Defense Dependents Schools, provides special education in OCONUS locations that are not part of the United States, and through the Department of Defense Domestic Dependent Elementary and Secondary Schools in OCONUS locations that are part of the United States.

Note: Services will be provided regardless of where a sponsor whose child requires early intervention services or special education is assigned.

Provision of services in non-Department of Defense OCONUS locations:

The Non-DoD Schools Program provides support and funding for the education of authorized command-sponsored dependents of military members and DoD civilian employees assigned to an overseas area where no DoD Education Activity school is available within the commuting area. At these locations, DoDEA supports a variety of options for children ranging from home school programs to public or private schools. Approval of enrollment of an eligible minor dependent of a DoD sponsor must be obtained from the DoDEA Non-DoD Schools Program office prior to enrolling a child in a non-DoD school. The Non-DoD Schools Program point of contact should be contacted as soon as possible for specific school information.

¹ "Services" refers to early intervention, special education and related services.

How to use the directory:

The directory provides information on the location of programs in each OCONUS military community. The directory identifies the levels of support in OCONUS communities by the services that are available. Additionally, the directory identifies specific communities that have specialized services for children with more severe or low-incidence disabilities. These programs serve children with deafness, blindness, emotional disturbance, autism spectrum disorder or pervasive developmental disorder.

Limitations on use:

1. This directory is intended to assist the military medical departments and Department of Defense Dependents Schools to provide recommendations to personnel offices regarding the assignments of sponsors of children with disabilities to overseas locations. The civilian personnel offices may use the directory to provide information to employees about the availability of services OCONUS.
2. Matching a child's needs with resources in OCONUS communities should be made only by designated personnel. In the United States, there is considerable variation in eligibility criteria for special education and early intervention, program descriptions and service delivery models. Making a recommendation based solely on a disability label may result in the assignment of a service member to a location that does not have the existing services necessary to meet a child's special needs or a sponsor not receiving an assignment to a location where services are available.

The pinpoint-assignment recommendation is not made based solely on the disability category, but on the severity of the disability and the child's individual needs. All disabilities reflect a continuum of severity. Level 1 includes children with mild delays who can be accommodated at most locations through local school resources and/or itinerant specialists. For example, a child with a visual impairment whose only requirement is access to large-print material can be supported in the majority of Department of Defense Education Activity schools. A pinpoint assignment to a designated visual impairment location is not necessary. Recommendations are made after careful review of the requirements on the child's Individualized Education Program.

3. Assignment to a designated location defined by this directory should not be construed to mean that Department of Defense Education Activity or the military medical department will provide a specific intervention or special educational program for a child with a disability. Multidisciplinary teams based in Educational and Developmental Intervention Services and/or the schools will determine the child's eligibility for early intervention or special education. If a child meets the eligible criteria, a team, including the parents, will develop an Individualized Education Program to meet the child's needs. This means that not all children served in the United States will be automatically eligible for or have access to similar programs overseas.

How to make assignment recommendations:

Military medical personnel should review the medical information and, with the coordination of the appropriate Department of Defense Dependents Schools office, the educational information for each school-aged family member of a military sponsor. This review includes identifying the communities where there are programs that can meet the child's needs. For children who are receiving early intervention services, future requirements should be projected and recommendations for only those communities that can and could continue to meet the child's projected school-based educational needs should be made.

Assignment managers shall consider the recommendations from the Military Medical Departments and Department of Defense Education Activity review when making their decision to assign the sponsor to an overseas tour of duty. Specific guidance for assignment managers regarding sponsors who have children with special education needs is contained in Department of Defense Instruction 1315.19, "Authorizing Special Needs Family Member Travel Overseas at Government Expense," Dec. 20, 2005.

Note: The highest level of support is identified for each school in a community. Care should be taken to ensure that assignments are made to the specific community, not to a detachment outside the community. It is important to note that there are limited post-secondary transition activities and job opportunities on overseas installations for students with moderate-to-severe disabilities.

Organization of the directory:

The directory is organized so the user can search by school and/or community to determine the level of services available at the schools in that community. The enclosed charts are:

Chart 1: Identification of special education resources by country and the communities in each country. Includes a list of schools in the community, level of special education resources and, as appropriate, notes about the availability of services at a specific school.

Chart 2: Listing of schools by community. Identifies type of military installation, military component responsible for the provision of Educational and Developmental Intervention Services and the location of an EDIS clinic.

Chart 3: Communities with specialized Level 3 services.

Special Education Support in Overseas Locations

For all OCONUS DoD schools, the directory identifies the pre-existing levels of support available for children with special educational needs. Note that in communities with multiple schools, not all levels of support are available at every school. Students may be transported to a neighboring school for services. Whenever possible, parents should seek housing in the catchment area of the school that has the pre-existing resources to meet their child's needs.

Autism Spectrum Disorder

Code AU

Any child identified with an autism spectrum disorder prior to relocation will receive specialized consideration to A2 and A3 locations.

- A1 There are no designated A1 level schools for assignment coordination purposes.
