

How to Help Your Customer: Preventing and Responding to Child and Domestic Abuse

Enroll in this course for installation service providers.

MilLife Learning and the Family Advocacy Program released a free, online course – How to Help Your Customer: Preventing and Responding to Child and Domestic Abuse – that is available for those who provide support to service members and military families on installations. Your contributions are critical to supporting a healthy and resilient military community.

Course description

Understanding your role as it relates to the Family Advocacy Program is key to preventing and responding to incidents of child abuse and neglect and domestic abuse. This course gives an overview of FAP, the prevention services it provides and how to recognize signs of child abuse and neglect and domestic abuse. It also explains how to safely communicate and offer supportive resources.

Course access

MilLife Learning is part of Military OneSource's network of programs and resources designed to make learning easy and accessible at any time, from anywhere in the world. You can log in with your Military OneSource account.

Course length

The course is 30 minutes long. Users can pause or exit at any time and pick up where they left off within 60 days.

Don't delay – enroll in this MilLife Learning course today.

www.MilitaryOneSource.mil | 800-342-9647