

On-the-Go Support from Military OneSource

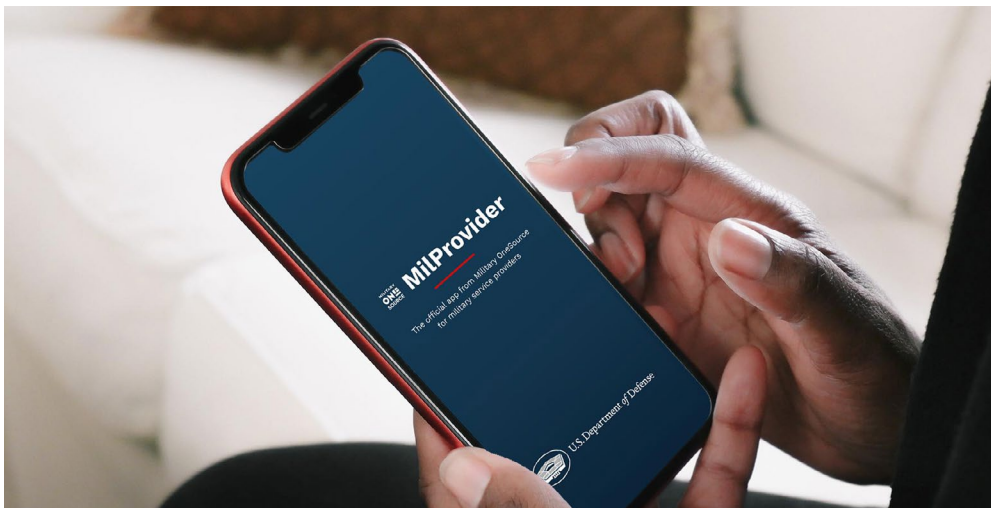

The app gives service providers added support to easily share tools, fact sheets and other products that can improve the lives of service members and their families. Quickly access English and some Spanish language MilLife resources on topics like:

- Deployment
- Money Management
- Moving
- Non-medical Counseling
- Spouse Education and Career Opportunities
- Transition Assistance
- Family advocate resources and reporting options

Search "MilProvider" on the Apple App Store or on Google Play.

Learn more at <https://www.militaryonesource.mil/milproviderapp>.

MilProvider

An app to quickly find and share resources with those you support

Background:

MilProvider is a mobile app from Military OneSource that gives military service providers trusted information and resources. Quickly find and instantly share Defense Department information and Military OneSource resources that can help service members and their families stay strong and resilient.

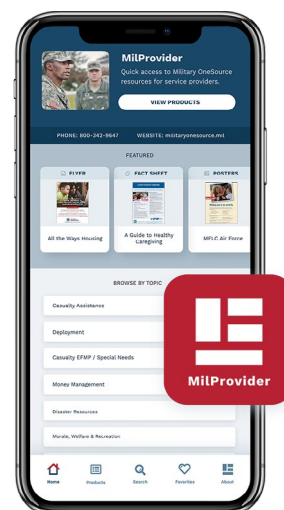

The app's curated list of resources was informed by input from military and family life counselors and Military OneSource state consultants. From deployment to wellness, MilProvider lets you instantly email or text information on a variety of topics to the military community members you work with.

New resources and materials are frequently added to the app to reflect important initiatives and feedback from users.

Highlights:

When they have questions, you have answers. Use the MilProvider app to:

- Get on-the-go access to a wealth of Military OneSource materials and Defense Department resources from mobile devices.
- Quickly find – and share – products at the point of care or wherever you are.
- Save favorite products and resources for easy reference later.
- Easily connect military community members to tools to help them build strength and resilience.

MILITARY
ONE SOURCE