

Take the Resources at the Ready Course

Discover ways Military OneSource can enhance your military life

Resources at the Ready: Support Resources to Help You Live Your Best MilLife is an interactive MilLife Learning course for service members and their families. This free course takes you on a virtual journey from basic training through military life, introducing you to the range of free support along the way. Choose one of two tracks:

Resources at the Ready: For Service Members and Families

- Pick a character and branch.
- Simulate a career from basic training, make choices and explore resources for each milestone.

Resources at the Ready: For Military Leaders

Leaders: Get a quick overview of key programs to help you share information and connect members of your unit with available resources.
