Things they want to know ...

Age, breed, size and weight of the dog. The general advise from NRW is that if a dog is taller than 40cm (16inches) and weighs more than 20kg (40lb) you need to prove that you can handle your dog in any situation. It is up to the City/Community to request proof or a test of your handling capabilities. You must provide proof of insurance for your dog. Some communities want to have proof of an international microchip - since most do not have a microchip reader, your Vet or your travel documents (USDA) for your dog will do.

It really depends on the person you talk to what, if, and how much proof you will have to provide!
