

Defense-State Liaison Office Program Content Guide

The following established style guidelines reflect the longstanding practices of developers and editors of content for the Defense-State Liaison Office Program area. They are consistent with rules and guidance outlined in the Associated Press Stylebook and reflective of Office of Military Community and Family Policy style and usage preferences.

Do

- Use a hyphen when referring to the Defense-State Liaison Office.
- Make “service member” and “service members” two words, except when referencing the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act.
- Use “softening” or qualifying words, such as “generally,” “may be,” “can be,” or “might,” to avoid making blanket statements about how people feel, react, etc., in different circumstances. See the following examples:
 - Wrong: “Payday, vehicle title and refund anticipation loans are damaging to your financial well-being.
 - Better: “Payday, vehicle title and refund anticipation loans can be damaging to your financial well-being.”
- Pay attention to the overall organization and flow of an article. Information and ideas should be logically organized and there should be some sense of continuity or flow from one idea to the next.
- Avoid redundancy.
- Write in gender-neutral terms, except if appropriate (for example, gender-specific services/groups).
- Write in relationship-neutral terms, such as “partner” or “couple.”

Do Not

- Make assumptions.
- Tell people how they feel.
- Tell people what they should/need to/must/ought/can’t/won’t do.
- Tell people what they always/never do.
- Use the term “lobby/lobbying” or imply lobbying.
- Use a dash when referring to the Defense-State Liaison Office. (For example, it is incorrect to write “Defense—State Liaison Office.”)

Formatting

- “Less is more” — be concise.
- Use bulleted formatting for clarity when appropriate.
- For DSLO Best Practice documents, be sure to left justify all state code quotations.
