

Military Service Uniform Guidance

BACKGROUND

Contractors are required to adhere to all Department of Defense policies, instructions and guidance surrounding military service uniforms and personal appearance regulations.

The military resources provided below are standard sources containing up-to-date information. Contractors must monitor these sources for updates and follow requirements for each service branch.

As uniform requirements change, contractors should update images and video, as directed, to reflect those changes within six months. This will allow enough time for photographs and video of service members wearing updated uniforms to be posted online at the approved military websites contractors depend on for image and video files.
